

TRAP GERMAN AT MONTDIDIER

ALLIES' ATTACKS VIRTUALLY ENCIRCLE TOWN; RAILWAY RENDERED USELESS TO ENEMY

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 10. — By the Associated Press.—The Germans at Montdidier are caught between the jaws of a vise which were closing this morning. Attacks from the north yesterday and from the south this morning have virtually encircled the town.

They also have rendered useless to the Germans the Montdidier-Chaulnes railway, the only line feeding the front at the bottom of the Montdidier pocket. The forces remaining there are in danger of not getting away without heavy losses.

Booty taken the last two days has been so large it has not yet been possible to make an inventory. It includes an enormous number of shells and arms. The attack extended eastward this morning, giving unexpected development in French participation in the battle. The wounded men, coming back from the front with enthusiasm are shouting to their comrades "the Boche is on the run."

The French have captured twenty-one cannon since last night including six 8-inch guns at LaNeuville-Sur-Ressons. The Germans had moved most of their heavy guns to the rear and defended their positions at Montdidier principally with machine guns. In this new battle of the Somme the French are showing that after four years of war they have lost none of their dash and courage. They have also proved Germans are not always able to plead surprise as an excuse for defeat. The French successes north of Montdidier were partially due to surprise. The Germans were aware of the impending attack south but were defeated.

Attacking at six o'clock last evening French troops conquered the heights of Assainvillers and Rubecourt in two hours. This morning they struck along the line down the front thru the region of Mery southeast of Montdidier, and moved ahead more than four miles, taking Faverolles by storm.

PARIS, Aug. 10.—The French, advancing eastward after their capture of Montdidier at midday have advanced their lines to an average depth of six miles on the front extending from Andechy, which is seven miles northeast of Montdidier, to Elinecourt, lying ten miles southeast of the captured city, according to the war office statement issued tonight.

The text follows: "On the Aves battle front our attacks continued all day with increasing success. After the morning's operations Montdidier, outflanked on the east and the north fell into our hands. Continuing our victorious advance on the right of the British forces we carried our lines nearly seven miles to the east of Montdidier on a front running from Andechy to Labossiere and Fescamp.

"Still enlarging our action southeast, we have attacked German positions on the right and left of the road from St. Just-en-Chaussee to Roye on a front of more than thirteen miles. We conquered Rollet, Orvillers-Sorel, Ressons-sur-Matz, Conchy-les-Pots, LaNeuville-Sur-Ressons and Elen-court, realizing at some points an advance of nearly seven miles.

"In three days of battle French troops have progressed nearly fourteen miles along the Amiens-Roye road. The number of prisoners taken during the same period exceeds 8,000. Among the enormous materials abandoned by the enemy, we have counted up to the present time 200 guns. "East front, Aug. 9: In Albania there have been patrol encounters that yielded us some prisoners. Our aviators have bombarded enemy encampments in the region of Pogradec and British aviators have dropped bombs on the railroads in the region of Ceres."

Enemy Retires All Along Line.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 10.—By the Associated Press.—North of the Aves the British have firmly established their positions and are pushing out patrols toward Bray. The Germans throughout the day were retreating along the line, endeavoring to save whatever they could as the French launched their new attack against Montdidier.

The French attack today resulted in the taking of Montdidier. This movement is considered as most significant as the allies have now penetrated far into the enemy lines in the Amiens district. The Germans are retreating rapidly out of the pocket of which Montdidier was the apex.

The Americans and British have now advanced beyond their objectives north of the Somme. The whole of the Chippilly spur is now in their possession after fighting of the most desperate character. The casualties of the Americans were not more than was to be expected considering the bitterness of the fighting.

Details of the brilliant battle which the Americans and British fought for the spur are now available. In order to go over the top at the appointed time yesterday afternoon the Americans were forced to make a rapid march in the last part of which they ran so close to the front.

Hurried on their way by the advancing British, French and American troops on the Amiens-Somme front.

Berlin Admits Loss of Ground.

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—via London.—"In the center of the battle front the enemy has gained ground beyond Rosieres and Hangest," says the official communication from General Headquarters tonight.

"During the night we withdrew our troops fighting on the Aves and on Dom Brook to the rear lines east of Montdidier. "South of Montdidier we repulsed strong partial attacks of the French. We shot down 32 airplanes over the battlefield." "There has been lively activity on the part of the enemy between the Yser and the Aves. At many points on this front the enemy launched thrusts and partial attacks which were repulsed before our lines in hand to hand fighting.

"Yesterday the British and the French, bringing strong reserves into action continued their attack on the whole battle front between the Aves and the Aves. On both sides of the Fosse-aux-Villiers-Bretonneux road we threw the enemy back by counter-attacks. He suffered heavy losses here."

Take Many Prisoners and Number of Guns.

London, Aug. 10.—Montdidier fell to the French first army, which had been operating south of Montdidier, according to the British war office announcement tonight. Many prisoners and great quantities of material were taken by the French.

The general line reached by the allies in the Albert-Montdidier sector now runs from Lihons to Fresnoy-les-Roye, Lignieres and Conchy-les-Pots. Statement added that the number of prisoners was increased.

The text of the communication follows: "The attack launched yesterday evening in accordance with the allied plan of operations on the right by the French first army south of Montdidier was developed by our allies this morning with complete success. Enveloped from the north and from the southeast Montdidier fell into the hands of the French before midday, together with many prisoners and great quantities of material."

During the remainder of the day the advance of the French first army continued with the co-operation of the French army on the right and the right wing of the British fourth army. Pressing hard upon the retreating troops south of Lihons, the British reinforcements have overcome the enemy's resistance and made substantial progress. The general line reached by the allied troops now runs virtually north and south from Lihons to Fresnoy-les-Roye, Lignieres and Conchy-les-Pots. The number of prisoners was increased."

Meanwhile certain American units had reached positions in front of a wood when the Germans opened fire with machine guns. Many of these enemy machine gunners came up from deep dugouts after the American barrage had ceased and they placed their guns in prepared pits. The Americans fired a hail of bullets here.

Must Keep the Enemy Running Says Gen. Marsh

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—"This is the time for the greatest efforts, keep the enemy running," General March, chief of staff summarized this today to newspapermen the situation in France. Standing before the great military maps at the war department that show clearly just where the Germans are being beaten back he pointed out that the great battle front was rapidly being straightened out from Rheims to the sea. "They have not yet," he said, "gotten back to the original Hindenburg line from which the Germans began their advances this year. We still have some territory to gain, so when statements appear that indicate the war is over at this point discourage it."

The greatest advantage of the whole thing has been the change of the ally from the defensive to the offensive which is a great military asset. We have the enemy guessing now instead of guessing ourselves."

From a confidential report General March read the following account of the situation on the British-French front south of Albert. "Allied forces found little opposition and have captured more prisoners than it is possible for them to handle, including a German general and his staff, showing elements of surprise attack. British report their prison camps back of Amiens so full that it is impossible to hold more. Allies have captured all the artillery in this sector."

REPUDIATE RECENT FRAZEE STATEMENT

Chicago, August 10.—Clark C. Griffith, manager and part owner of the Washington club, and Charles A. Comiskey, president of the Chicago White Sox, wrote President Ban Johnson of the American League, repudiating the statement lacking Johnson's policy, which Harry Frazee, one of the owners of the Boston club, issued at the American League meeting in Cleveland a week ago today.

Griffith said the statement was issued absolutely without his authority and that it originated with Frazee. President Comiskey expressed surprise his name had been attached to the document, which charged President Johnson with bungling the affairs of the American League, in urging the club owners to close the championship season on August 20, and then begin the world's series before September 1st, the date set by Secretary of War Baker for application of the "work-or-fight" order, as it affects professional baseball players.

Because of his willingness to enter military service, charges against him were dropped.

SEN. LEWIS IN FRANCE

Washington, Aug. 10.—Senator Lewis of Illinois has gone to France to see the battle fronts and visit Illinois troops with the expeditionary forces. It was learned today that he left Washington two weeks ago and is about due to arrive on the other side.

War News Summary News of Activities On Various Battle Fronts in Summarized Form By Associated Press.

The French have driven the Germans before them for an important gain east of Montdidier in Picardy. That city which was the apex of a German salient that now has been wiped out, fell to the French fourth army at midday Saturday. Before nightfall, according to the French war office statement, the victorious French forces had carried the battle line onward to an average depth of six miles on a front of approximately twenty miles.

In the three days of engagements that culminated in the taking of Montdidier the French took 8,000 prisoners. Their captures also included 200 guns and an enormous amount of material. Rushed by the impact of the British, French and American offensive on the battle line from Albert, northeast of Amiens, to the Oise river, north of Compiègne, German forces are streaming back toward the Somme river, and the Nesle-Noyon canal. So far as can be determined, the enemy is in full retreat all along the front against which the allies flung themselves on Thursday morning.

It is reported from Paris that French patrols are in Chaulnes the principal German center west of the Somme. Montdidier at the top of the German salient in Picardy has been taken by the allies, who cut off large numbers of the enemy when they sought to beat a retreat from the city. Thousands of prisoners were taken there by the allies it is reported. North of the Somme stubborn enemy resistance at Chippilly Spur, a height which dominated the whole valley of the Somme and that region has been broken and the Germans north of the river have joined their comrades in retreating.

South of Montdidier, the French have plunged thru the German lines on the hills west of Matz river and are reported to be in the valley of the stream at Marquessieu. When the situation is studied on a war map it can be seen that the Germans are in a serious position east of Montdidier. The allies have closed in on Chaulnes and have had the railroad junction south of that town under artillery fire for two days. If Chaulnes is lost to the Germans they will be forced to make a long perilous march eastward over country roads toward Noyon.

The rapid progress of the French below Montdidier has placed even this road under fire and made it almost impossible as an avenue of escape for the harassed enemy. In the center the Germans are reported to be in full retreat. Allied airmen have seen roads filled with German motor lorries and have been active in bombing these lines of transport. The bridges of the Somme river south of Peronne are under fire and the one at Peronne is reported to have been broken. This will throw new complications in the German high command's task of extricating its shattered armies from the field where they have been defeated. It now appears that the German lines in Picardy must have been stripped when Crown Prince Rupprecht sent troops to the rescue of the German crown prince's armies south of the Aisne three weeks ago. Paris newspapers remark on the fact that the captives taken are, for the most part, rather old and it is said that they are members of the reserve divisions.

Crown Prince Rupprecht, however, is known to have a large number of splendid troops which will probably be thrown into battle at once. So far only two of these divisions have come in contact with the allies but they have been unable to check the onward rush of the victorious armies of Haig and Debeny. The number of prisoners captured during the first three days of the offensive is very large. It is hinted at Paris that it exceeds by far the figure given out in the official statements.

Two divisional headquarters with their staffs are said to have been taken. The guns and war materials lost by the enemy constitute a very heavy loss. Since the American forces occupied Fismette, the northern suburb of Amiens, no reports of further attacks in that region. It is believed however, that the allies there are gathering themselves for a new assault which may have its effect on the great battle going on further north.

Altho there have been rumors of heavy fighting south of Arras there has been no confirmation of them as yet. Nothing is known as of the situation in Flanders, where on Friday the Germans are reported to be withdrawing from their advanced position.

BILLION DOLLARS SHORT OF $8,000,000,000 GOAL

Ways and Means Committee Forced to Devise Means to Furnish Needed Revenue Next Week.

Washington, Aug. 10.—The house ways and means committee tonight is an even billion dollars short of its $8,000,000,000 goal in the framing of the tentative draft of the revenue bill and that amount short of the total revenue after including all schedules so far tentatively adopted and the whiskey and beer taxes held until the last and the luxury schedule which falls very far short of the $2,000,000,000 allotted it. The committee next Monday in what it plans to be the final week of framing the measure will be forced to devise means to make up the billion dollars. Chairman Kittling, of the committee, expects to confer with Secretary McAdoo next week before the bill is given its final approval and differences between the treasury and the committee regarding the excess profits tax are expected to be straightened out.

In considering how best to raise the remaining billion dollars there was renewed talk among committee members today on the feasibility of a gross sales tax. It was calculated that one per cent on every line of business would produce between $1,500,000,000 and $2,000,000,000. But it was held that to apply it to every business would be too drastic and that a few industries only should be selected for such a consumption tax. There also was talk of an excise tax on tea, coffee and sugar. A tax of three cents a pound on sugar and coffee and 10 or 15 cents a pound on tea, it was stated, would produce between $400,000,000 and $500,000,000. The whiskey and beer tax practically has been agreed upon, but for the good of the government the rates are being withheld by the committee until the last moment, to avoid large withdrawals from the bonded warehouses to escape taxation. In general, however, it may be said that they will raise $81,000,000 and soft drinks $30,000,000.

Kearney, Neb., Aug. 10.—Judge Francis G. Hanger, associate justice of the Nebraska supreme court, died here this evening following a brief illness, aged 75 years.

The rapid progress of the French below Montdidier has placed even this road under fire and made it almost impossible as an avenue of escape for the harassed enemy.

In the center the Germans are reported to be in full retreat. Allied airmen have seen roads filled with German motor lorries and have been active in bombing these lines of transport. Heroism of U.S. Marines Told By Eye Witness

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—An account by an eye-witness of the fighting near Chateau Thierry in which American divisions, including a marine brigade took part early in June was made public today by the navy department.

It is a long letter from an officer of the marines to Major General Barnett, commandant of the corps, and the story told is of peculiar significance as the opinion of many officers here is it was the stand of the Americans along this line which saved Paris.

The name of the writer is not disclosed. The Americans were rushed to the line in motor trucks and in LaVoie Chateau between Champello and Lucy le Bocage," the letter says. "From one side we had observation of the north and when the Germans attacked at 5 p. m., we had a box seat. "They were driving at Hill 565 from the north and northeast and they came out on a wonderfully clear day in two columns across a wheat field. We could see the two thin brown columns advancing in perfect order until two thirds of the column, we judged, were in view.

"The rifle and machine gun fire were incessant and overhead shrapnel was bursting. Then the shrapnel came on the target at each shot. The white patches would roll away and we could see that some of the columns were still there, slowed up and it seemed perfect suicide for them to try. You couldn't begrudge a tribute to their pluck at that.

"Then, under that deadly fire and a barrage of rifle and machine gun fire the boche stopped. It was too much for any men. They burrowed in or broke to the cover of the woods and you could follow them by the ripple of the green white as they raced for cover."

The writer declares the rifle fire of the marines amazed the French who saw it. "That men should fire deliberately and use their sights and adjust their range," he says, "was beyond their experience. It must have had a telling effect on the morale of the boche for it was something they had not counted on. As a matter of fact after pushing back the weakened French and then running up against a stone-wall defense they were literally 'up in the air' and more than stopped. We found that out later from prisoners for the Germans never knew we were in the front line when they made that attack. They were absolutely mystified at the manner in which the defense stiffened up until they found that our troops were in line."

The letter tells in detail of the days of fighting that followed. It describes a daylight charge against a machine gun post and of scouting raids up to June, when the whole brigade swung forward to straighten out the line. This action resulted in the capture of Belleau Wood.

Major Sibley's battalion of the sixth marine regiment led the way here with Holcomb in support. The woods were alive with enemy machine guns. That night word came back that Robertson with twenty men of the 9th company had taken Bouresches, breaching thru a heavy machine gun barrage to enter the town. Robertson fighting with an automatic in either hand was hit three times before he would allow himself to be taken to the rear.

Speaking of individual acts of bravery the writer says "Duncan a company commander, before he was mowed down, had his pipe in his mouth and was carrying a stick."

Private Dunlavy, killed later, captured an enemy machine gun in Bouresches which he turned on the foe with great effect, while at another point Young Timmerman charged a machine gun at the point of the bayonet and sent in seventeen prisoners at a clip. "When the enemy made a stand at one point in the woods, Sibley's battalion was withdrawn and for at hour fifty American and French batteries hammered the wood. Hughes, with the tenth company then went in and his first message was that the wood had been cut to mince meat. Overton, leading the 76th company finally charged with Rock Plateau killing or capturing the runners and all the guns with few casualties.

The 52nd company lost all its officers and Major Sibley and his adjutant, Lieutenant Bellamy, reorganized it under fire and charged a machine gun nest at the most critical time in all the fighting.

YANKEE TROOPS REPULSE VICIOUS GERMAN ATTACKS

French and Americans Hold Positions North of Vesle

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY ON THE VESLE FRONT, Aug. 10.—(By the Associated Press)—In attempting to dislodge the French and the Americans from positions north of the Vesle river on both sides of Fismes, the Germans made repeated counter-attacks, which began just before dark Friday night and continued until Saturday morning. There were desperate fighting in the region of Fismette where German attacks were repulsed by Americans who were clinging to outskirts of the village.

In the region of Bazoches, the Germans made several vicious attacks but the allies successfully fought them off. The Germans began with airplane attacks the aviators attempting to bomb infantry north of the Vesle and bridges over which other troops were passing. French and American anti-aircraft guns beat off the German flyers, however. Just after dark the Germans launched an artillery attack which steadily increased in volume until nearly daylight when the Franco-Americans counter-attacked with such force that the Germans were forced to lessen the volume of their fire.

During the night the Germans attacked Fismette three times and once after daylight Saturday. From the region southeast of Braine-et-Fismes, the Franco-Americans put down such a terrific barrage that the Germans were stopped Saturday morning. The enemy used much gas in attempting to dislodge the Americans from Fismette. Infantry plentifully supplied with machine guns also made futile attacks.

The Americans discovered Saturday that the Germans in counter-attacking used "glacis ball" shrapnel containing stones of a marble shape, some of them a half inch in diameter and others three-fifths of an inch. American officers said that this was their first acquaintance with shrapnel of this nature. A peculiar wound inflicted upon an American soldier led to the discovery that the Germans were using glass missiles. The French and Americans made a search of the district along the Vesle and found one unexploded shell and it has been turned over to the ordnance experts for examination.

KEEP COMMISSION FORM.

Everyone who talks about the return to the aldermanic form of government harps about the salary expense under the commission form. This question of salaries seems to be the great objection. With the general law making it possible for aldermen to charge $10 a meeting and placing no limit on the number of meetings, fairness compels one to admit that the salary possibilities are about equal. So what is the use of making a change now?

Keep the present form of government, which about fifty cities in Illinois have found satisfactory, and let this question of salaries take care of itself between now and the next municipal election which will be in May. Voting to return to the aldermanic form is not going to settle the salary question.

A dispatch says that the German press admits that the government in Russia is wobbly and that a change may be expected at any time. Such a statement about Russia is hardly a news item. Changes there are of a kaleidoscopic kind.

MEN AND WOMEN CAN VOTE.
Men and women both have a right to vote at the election next Tuesday, when the question of return to the aldermanic form of government will be on trial. When the polls are closed and the ballots counted the result should show that a large majority of the people have voted. This is a question in which citizens are directly interested. A return to the aldermanic form means retrograde. Keep the city on its present organization footing, then move forward to the managerial system. That plan, if properly administered, can give a city the same type of management that results in the success of well managed private corporations.

THE NEW DRAFT AGE.

The selective draft law will in all probability be changed to take in men from 32 to 45, but a reading of the discussion of the bill indicates clearly that the government intends to disturb personal and industrial relationships just as little as possible. One purpose of the draft extension is to avoid taking married men into the service and, furthermore, to prevent the induction of men who are in essential industries. Married men of mature years need not worry about being called into active army service. Nevertheless, they will have opportunity for serving the country in other ways.

Perhaps the commission form of government has not brought all the good results that you expected. That is no reason why you should vote to return to the aldermanic form, a backward step. If a change is desired by the people of the city it should look toward the managerial form. For those people who have studied municipal government for the most part believe that the managerial form offers the best prospects of all for satisfactory results.

Some farmers are talking about the damage to corn and the fact is pretty well established that recent winds have lessened the corn prospects. But it is noticeable that gloom does not exist among farmers generally over crop conditions. They are learning that in this locality the corn crop is very, very seldom a failure. They know too, that if the corn belt crop is cut short the price is very likely to compensate for the shortage. This thought, together with the realization that Illinois has just threshed its greatest wheat crop, has seemingly convinced the farmers that there are not the days for crop worry.

Some people question the propriety of holding fairs during these war times. Over in Missouri the slogan for the state fair is "Promote patriotism, production and progressiveness." That is a slogan well worth following, even in war time.

BAD FUMES TURNED TO GOOD USES.

Under the direction of the U. S. department of agriculture a gas attack of a country wide kind is soon to be made up weevils which destroy beans, peas and some other vegetables in storage. A form of carbon bisulphide will be used and it is hoped that the saving of millions of dollars' worth of foodstuffs will result. This proves that nothing is essentially bad, for even poisonous gas can be turned to a good use.

THE DUMPING GROUND MENACE.

Dr. Hemenway, of the state health department, isn't enthusiastic about sanitary conditions in Jacksonville. The health expert visited the city dumping grounds and declared the place a disgrace to the community. Now some one will say that this fact of a state health officer criticizing local conditions should not be advertised in the public press. The only advantage in the criticism is to give it publicity and to hope that a way will be found to better conditions. The city dumping grounds has for many years been a menace to public health. Dr. Hemenway says that refuse matter such as is collected there can not be satisfactorily buried. In his opinion, based on experience, the only safe plan is incineration. He doesn't mean an expensive plant, but says that one can be built for a few hundred dollars that will take care of this city's refuse.

The thing for this city to do in order to put a stop to this menace to health is to try the state expert's plan and either get the desired results or prove that he is wrong.

RIPPLING RHYMES

By Walt Mason

ADD RIPPLING RHYMES GOING DRY.

This land of ours is going dry, the groggshops close their swinging doors, and soon the man who wants old rye will have to swim to foreign shores. John Barleycorn has met his fate, he's being pushed clear off the map; and we must learn to celebrate with sparkling water from the tap. There is no ginmill in the vale, there are no ginmills on the hills; dry people call for Adam's ale, and fill themselves with babbling rills. The workman buys a house and lot with money that he used to blow for brimming bowls of liquid rot, that filled his head and soul with woe. Tired father laps up sparkling brooks, instead of seeking gilded halls, and has some coin to spend for books, and pictures for the parlor walls. The young man hits the village pond when thirst has given him the blues; and then he buys a U. S. bond, which is a better thing than booze. The war has killed the Demon Rum, has been a hour and deadly frost; and men will say, in years to come, the war was worth whatever it cost. The ginmill.

With the tremendously increased volume of money due to recent sales of grain, farmers' bank accounts were never quite so large. This accounts for so many land buyers and the increased value of farm land. When you go to show a farm we carry our contracts with us. The old way of making a real estate deal, "I will think it over and let you know next week," is a thing of the past. We do the business with you when you today, sell you today and start breaking stubble tomorrow. When you read this, come, right in and beat the other fellow to it "just by an hour."

CHANGING FORM OF GOVERNMENT DISCUSSED

Speakers Heard at Court House Saturday Evening—Question is Presented from Both View Points.

A discussion of the question of returning to the aldermanic form of government which will come up for settlement at an election to be held next Tuesday was heard at the court house Saturday evening.

The meeting was called to order by Attorney W. N. Hargrove and Dr. E. F. Baker was asked to preside. There was a fair sized audience and the speakers were given close attention.

While it was primarily a meeting for a discussion of the question from the affirmative side yet two of the speakers were in favor of retaining the commission form of government.

W. L. Alexander, Alex Platt and W. N. Hargrove spoke in favor of returning to the aldermanic form of government. Dr. J. R. Harker and Dr. E. F. Baker favored retaining the commission form.

The argument advanced by the speakers in favor of the aldermanic form of government was that the Commission form is un-American and does not represent the people. Mr. Hargrove in addition reiterated his argument that the commissioners had given away the city's property to the Railway and Light company.

Dr. Harker was of the opinion that a return to the aldermanic form would be a big step backward and hoped it would not be made. Dr. Baker also said he still believed the commission form of government the most desirable. He favored, however, a 25 per cent recall instead of 55 per cent.

THE DAVIS LIGHT OPERA COMPANY
Friday, Aug. 23, Saturday, Aug. 24.

A company of eleven singers under the leadership of Harry Davies which is noted for its production of light operas and which is an excellent band of trained singers for prelude and concert work. Mr. Davies is a firm believer in what stage people call "pep," and consequently his programs are always full of dash and vim and grip the interest of the audience from the first. Each of the singers has had long schooling in his work. This unusual band of wandering minstrels has been remarkably successful in concert and light opera. The company will render concerts each afternoon and will present the operas, Olivette and Pinafore in the evenings.

E. C. TANNER WILL RUN FOR CONGRESS.

The many Jacksonville friends of Frederick C. Tanner will be interested in knowing that he is a candidate for congress in the Seventeenth New York district.

In a recent letter to Horace H. Bancroft, his long time friend, Mr. Tanner mentions that he determined to be a candidate because he and his friends were not satisfied with the war attitude of Congressman Francis, who has been serving the district. When it is recalled that many leaders in industry, men in professional and political life, live in the Seventeenth district, it will the more appear that some man of acknowledged mentality and leadership must be the congressional representative. Among men known to public life who are residents of the Seventeenth district are Elihu Root, Chas. E. Hughes, ex-Attorney General George W. Wickersham, Henry L. Stimson, ex-Secretary of War; Henry Taft, brother of William Howard Taft; Governor Whitman and Harry P. Davison.

AN OPINION OF THE CHAUTAUQUA.

A. Stanley Brown, of Joliet, one of the most prominent of Illinois educators, was in Jacksonville Friday and while here made some comment on the local chautauqua. Speaking to a group of men, Mr. Brown said: "You know that you have the reputation of having the best chautauqua anywhere in Illinois or adjoining states. I don't know anything about what your chautauqua is or who are its officers, but I do know that the chautauqua here is the envy of other communities because of the high class talent you secure and the general management of your enterprise. The ratings that I am giving the chautauqua is the opinion of chautauqua agencies and the men and women who have appeared upon your programs in past years."

DR. E. L. SCRUGGS GOES TO NEW WORK

Has Accepted Pastorate at Jefferson City, Mo.—Did Splendid Work in Rejuvenating Mt. Emory Baptist Church—Will Leave October First.

At the regular meeting of the official board of Mt. Emory Baptist church held Wednesday Dr. Enos Larkin Scruggs, who has been pastor since 1915, presented his resignation. The resignation was accepted with many expressions of regret by the board.

However, Mr. Scruggs has a splendid position as pastor of the Second Baptist church in Jefferson City, Mo., and the board gave him his release that he might accept it. Jefferson City is where Dr. Scruggs was born. It is the seat of the state university for colored people where several hundred young men and women attend each year.

During a recent visit Dr. Scruggs found a number of the older residents of the city who knew his parents. The new charge offers a rare opportunity for a progressive and intelligent pastor and Mr. Scruggs regards it as one of the greatest opportunities of his ministerial career. The position not only offers much in the way of good work from a spiritual standpoint but also carries a substantial increase in salary.

Man of Ability.

Dr. E. L. Scruggs is in many ways one of the most gifted Negro preachers this city has had. After completing his early schooling he graduated from Lincoln Institute at Jefferson City, Mo., where he received his degree of A. M. He then graduated to a good use.

THE DUMPING GROUND MENACE.

Dr. Hemenway, of the state health department, isn't enthusiastic about sanitary conditions in Jacksonville. The health expert visited the city dumping grounds and declared the place a disgrace to the community. Now some one will say that this fact of a state health officer criticizing local conditions should not be advertised in the public press. The only advantage in the criticism is to give it publicity and to hope that a way will be found to better conditions. The city dumping grounds has for many years been a menace to public health. Dr. Hemenway says that refuse matter such as is collected there can not be satisfactorily buried. In his opinion, based on experience, the only safe plan is incineration. He doesn't mean an expensive plant, but says that one can be built for a few hundred dollars; that will take care of this city's refuse.

The thing for this city to do in order to put a stop to this menace to health is to try the state expert's plan and either get the desired results or prove that he is wrong.

RIPPLING RHYMS By Walt Mason

ADD RIPPLING RHYMES GOING DRY.

This land of ours is going dry, the grogshops close their swinging doors, and soon the man who wants old rye will have to swim to foreign shores. John Barleycorn has met his fate, he's being pushed clear off the map; and we must learn to celebrate with sparkling water from the tap. There is no ginmill in the vale, there are no ginmills on the hills; dry people call for Adam's ale, and fill themselves with babbling rills. The workman buys a house and lot with money that he used to blow for brimming bowls of liquid rot, that filled his head and soul with woe. Tired folk seek up sparkling brooks.

HEALTH EXPERT VISITED CITY DUMPING GROUND

Had no Trouble in Locating Place—Says Incineration Plan Should Be Adopted—Alleys Need Attention.

Dr. H. B. Hemenway of the State Public Health Department who is in the city investigating health conditions, made investigations thru several alleys of the business and residence sections. He found fly conditions that he considers a serious menace to the health of the city.

Dr. Hemenway's astonishment was quite pronounced when he visited the city dumping ground, which there is no denying is in very bad condition.

At the dumping round there is a vast collection of refuse which includes garbage, manure, rotten eggs, dead chickens, etc. Year after year the city has used this dumping round and all plans for burial or incineration of refuse have failed.

Dr. Hemenway declares that there is every possibility of disease from such a source, infection carried by flies. He believes that burial of such refuse is difficult of accomplishment and not certainly satisfactory. Incineration is the plan he advocates and it is his statement that at a very small cost a plant of sufficient size to consume all this refuse could be erected. However, the plan of disposal Dr. Hemenway is very sure that something should be done to give the city needed relief.

THE ELECTION.

Editor Journal:—Every loyal citizen will vote next Tuesday. If you fail to do so you will be the worst kind of a shucker. Use your judgment in the best interest of your own city. Read the commission form law and see for yourself what a one-sided contract we made with five men, when we elected them. We have to give the absolute control of the city, together with its revenues, amounting to about $100,000 per annum, together with the power to contract debts in the name of the city. In fact, they can do as they please without one particle of restraint. Not for one year or two, but for four. That law makes them legislative, executive and judicial officers, from whom there is no appeal.

What sane business man would enter into a contract like that? Now, citizens of Jacksonville, this is your eighth year. You have given that form a fair trial, patiently, and have you not had enough of it? If so, go to the polls Tuesday and vote yes, and that is the one way to change this form and be in line with our state and nation, the republican form of representative government. Then every ward in the city will name two residents of that ward to make their wants known and represent them in the council. The eight aldermen will devote sufficient time to the public business to place our good city in a short time on a cash basis. A. Platt.

TWO INSANE PATIENTS DIED RECENTLY

INQUESTS TO ESTABLISH FACTS WERE HELD.

Edward Filbert Employed at School for Deaf Died There—Aged Patient Jumped from Fire Escape.

A coroner's inquest was held held at Jacksonville State hospital Thursday, July 25, over the remains of Edward Filbert. This man died on the grounds of the State School for the Deaf where he had been employed.

At the hospital last Sunday, August 4, another inquest was held when a jury looked into the facts surrounding the death of Norman C. Hawley, a former resident of Woodford county. He came to his death, according to the evidence, by jumping off a fire escape attached to the hospital building.

The facts about these two inquests have just come to public attention. Coroner Charles A. Rose said yesterday that he had no thought of suppressing the facts and readily gave them for publication when he was asked about the cases. Neither case seemed to have any special news value and the coroner said that as no one had asked him about them that they had merely slipped from his mind so far as newspaper publication. Asked if Dr. E. L. Hill, superintendent of the hospital, had suggested that it would be well to omit from publication the coroner's report, Mr. Rose said absolutely no. No suggestion or reference of any kind in regard to publicity seems to have been made by the hospital authorities.

There are usually some delays in making out the coroner's statements at the Jacksonville State hospital because of the custom of having an institution stenographer take the testimony of witnesses and then transcribe the notes.

Died In Convulsions.

At the Filbert inquest the witnesses were Dr. C. C. Atherton, Walter Pemberton, John Willett, Melvin Smith, Samuel Riggs, Dr. C. B. Mayfield and George Greenlee. It seems that Filbert, who was a man weighing about 200 lbs. and in seemingly good physical condition, had been sent from time to time to the School for the Deaf for general work. On the day in question he had been shoveling coal. With others men he responded to the call for dinner and when he reached the place where the men had been assembling for their meal he laid down under a nearby tree. This he was in the habit of doing and, so he attracted no special attention. A few minutes later, however, when he did not come to the table the man in charge of the group walked over to Filbert, removed the hat from his face and found that the man had froth about his mouth and had apparently had a convulsion.

The attendant bathed the man's face and a telephone message was sent to the hospital but Filbert died almost immediately and before the physician arrived. The various witnesses testified to the facts as narrated here. The man ate a good breakfast. The morning of his death and seemed to be all right until the very time of his demise.

Leaped From Fire Escape.

Norman C. Hawley who jumped to his death from an iron fire escape was admitted to the hospital in 1903, from Woodford county and had been a farmer. He is said to have been quite a well known man in his home community. Witnesses who testified in this inquest were Dr. C. B. Mayfield, Miss Alberta Heidel, attendant; John Laage, a patient; Ralph Hupert, a patient, and Dr. McLin. The testimony showed that Hawley had been about his work as usual and gave no special evidence of being depressed. One witness said that the man was reported to become disturbed now and then and at one time caused some trouble in the ward. He was eighty one years of age. One witness testified to seeing Hawley step over the railing of the iron fire escape and jump with his hands at his sides. The statement of Dr. McLin was that as soon as he heard that the man had jumped he obtained a stretcher, gave the man a stimulant and had him removed to a hospital ward where his wounds were dressed. Nearly every bone in the man's body was broken and it was apparent that he could not survive, and death occurred about two hours after his plunge from the fire escape.

In this case the jury returned a verdict finding that Hawley came to his death by jumping from a fire escape with suicidal intent. No one was accounted responsible for the death.

In the Filbert case the jury returned a verdict of death resulting from hemorrhage of the brain, no one being accounted as responsible. A much larger amount of public interest attaches to the Filbert case because of differing views on the appropriateness of using patients in the state hospital for labor at the School for the Deaf.

CHAUTAUQUA DINING SERVICE PLANNED

Women of Council of National Defense Will Serve—Committees Named.

The dining hall on the Chautauqua grounds is to be managed by the Woman's Committee, of the Council of National Defense. The proceeds are to finance the Woman's War work of Morgan county. The best housewives in the county will give their time and labor to make a success of the enterprise. The high standard set by the Christian church management will be fully maintained.

Chairmen have been chosen for the more important committees, and they are inviting every patriotic woman to have a part in serving, in some capacity. Women who have not been asked are requested to call the chairman of some committee and offer services for as many days as possible to help in this fine work. The management says, "You will be away from home so much during Chautauqua that your garden supplies may be wasted. Why not donate everything possible to the dining hall?" The committee chairmen are:

Food—Mrs. T. H. Buckthorpe; first assistant, Mrs. J. W. Clary. Dining Hall—Mrs. Lillian W. King.

Cafeteria—Mrs. Miller Weir. Beverages—Mrs. Wallace. Supplies—Dr. Annette Sharp. Publicity—Mrs. A. L. Adams. "Let every woman resolve to help—and then by working if possible—by giving if able, and by eating early and often. Food will win the war. This is true in a new way at the Chautauqua dining hall under the management of the Woman's Committee of the Council of National Defense."

Mrs. Mary Coffman, formerly of Floreth Co., is now with Mrs. Hoover, where she will be glad to serve her many friends.

SOUTH MAIN STREET IMPROVEMENTS

Anybody who travels along South Main street and compares the condition there with those of a few months ago can appreciate the change. Of course there is a great deal of work still remains to be done. However, the pavement between the street railway company's rails is in and nearly everybody has a fine concrete walk. Many yards on South Main street between Anna street and Morton avenue are terraced and so it has been necessary to construct concrete retaining walls along the sidewalks. The results have given some very attractive effects and when the pavement is finally finished South Main will be one of the show streets of the city.

PREPARE FOR COUNTY WIDE REGISTRATION

When New Law Passes Men Will Register at Election Polling Places Says Chairman Weir—Letter of Instruction Received.

Miller Weir, chairman of the selective board, has returned to Jacksonville after a week spent in southern Illinois upon business of the state auditor's office. Mr. Weir said yesterday in the office of the local board getting in touch with correspondence and orders transmitted from the war department. Most of the recent instructions received by the board pertain to the expected registration of men between the ages of 21 and 45.

The law is now pending before congress extending the selective draft ages and while the matter has not yet come to a final vote

HOW MRS. BOYD AVOIDED AN OPERATION.

Canton, Ohio. — "I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well. My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my trouble, so I can do my housework without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them." — Mrs. Marie Boyd, 1421 5th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

Sometimes there are serious conditions where a hospital operation is the only alternative, but on the other hand so many women have been cured by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after doctors have said that an operation was necessary—every woman who wants to avoid an operation should give it a fair trial before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

If complications exist, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of many years experience is at your service.

the administration is evidently quite confident that the law will be placed upon the statute books. Mr. Weir said yesterday that it is the intention to have the registration held Sept. 5 at all the regular polling places. It will be the duty of the local board here to appoint a registrar or registrars for each precinct within the county.

On the date indicated these registrars will be at the regular precinct polling place and the record of registrants will be made very much as is true at a general election, except that each registrar will file personal information instead of merely casting a vote upon some question to be decided.

A circular letter of instruction addressed to local boards on this general subject outlines the following facts:

Large Number to Register. It is confidently anticipated that legislation extending the present draft ages will early be enacted by Congress. At this time is cannot be stated with exactness what ages will be subject to draft but it is safe to assume that a very large number of men will be required to register and that the day of registration will be early in September.

The registration of such large numbers requires detailed and extensive preparation and there will not be sufficient time for such preparation after the passage of the legislation by Congress. Instructions outlining procedure will be at once forwarded by mail pending receipt thereof you are instructed to make preliminary arrangements at once in order that registration may take place soon after the passage of the necessary legislation. The machinery for registration must be perfected and ready to be put into immediate operation when the President's Proclamation can be published.

The governors of all states and the commissioners of the District of Columbia will be called upon to supervise the registration in their respective States and in the District of Columbia.

The Adjutant General or Draft Executive in each State, acting under the direction of the Governor, will be the central administrative authority of the registration system within the State.

Local Boards to Direct Work. The Local Boards will have immediate direction and supervision of the registration within their respective jurisdictions. The actual registration will be made in the customary voting precincts in the jurisdiction of each Local Board.

Each Local Board should be requested at once to appoint a registrar or registrars for each precinct within its jurisdiction. Where there is more than one registrar in a precinct, one will be appointed as chief registrar. Registrars should be appointed for each probable eighty registrants in a precinct. This will require one and one third times as many registrars as were required in June, 1917.

Registrars should be competent to do their clerical work, citizens of the United States, and reside within the jurisdiction of the Local Board by which they are appointed, and should be persons who have lived in the jurisdiction long enough to be well acquainted with the residents thereof. All persons are expected to offer such services as they can afford in this patriotic duty without compensation, but, when compensation is claimed by a registrar, four dollars may be paid for his services. Volunteer registrars who offer their services free of charge may be appointed in such numbers as may be used in any precinct.

Interpreters Necessary. It was evidently on the first registration day that adequate arrangements in some jurisdictions had not been made for interpreters. It will be necessary to arrange for a sufficient number of interpreters in all jurisdictions where the Local Board knows from their own knowledge of local conditions that the services of such men will be required. If volunteers cannot be obtained, persons may be employed and compensated as provided in Section 28 of Registration Regulations, No. 2.

Governors, mayors, city clerks, and county authorities will be called upon by the President in regulations to assist Local Boards in providing suitable places for registration and to obtain the cooperation of the proper election commissioners and custodians or officers in charge of election machinery and public building. When voting booths are available, arrangements should be made for their use together with the equipment as is usually supplied for use in registering voters. Where the customary voting places are in private building, proprietors should be requested to afford assistance to local authorities by permitting the use of such places for purpose of registration.

President to Fix Date. The President's Proclamation to be called upon by the President in regulations to assist Local Boards in providing suitable places for registration and to obtain the cooperation of the proper election commissioners and custodians or officers in charge of election machinery and public building. When voting booths are available, arrangements should be made for their use together with the equipment as is usually supplied for use in registering voters. Where the customary voting places are in private building, proprietors should be requested to afford assistance to local authorities by permitting the use of such places for purpose of registration.

It is requested that in each city of thirty thousand population or over having more than one Local Board and in each county or similar subdivision having more than one Local Board within their respective jurisdictions, a central registration committee be appointed from and by the members of such Boards whose duty it will be to co-ordinate and supervise generally all preparations for such registration and to direct the activities looking toward a complete registration. This central registration committee and city councils of National defense, committees on public safety and similar agencies within the jurisdiction to assist in bringing about a complete registration.

The Adjutant General or Draft Executive in each State, acting under the direction of the Governor, will be the central administrative authority of the registration system within the State.

The Local Boards will have immediate direction and supervision of the registration within their respective jurisdictions. The actual registration will be made in the customary voting precincts in the jurisdiction of each Local Board.

nor, will forthwith select a chairman of the Local Boards to meet and select a central committee and direct such chairman to call together all Local Boards within such city or county for the purpose of selecting a central registration committee.

The task confronting the State Organization and the Local Boards is known to be a great one but it is confidently expected that the National Draft Organization will respond to the call and make all preliminary arrangements for the registration in order that there may be no delay in registering the persons to be subject to draft upon the passage of the necessary legislation and the issuance of the President's Proclamation.

LETTER FROM JUDGE OREAR.

As an old citizen of Jacksonville, I take great interest in the city and the government of this city. The city of Jacksonville was operated for a long period of time under aldermanic or representative form of government. It was not always satisfactory, but the people had an opportunity each year of readjusting the council, and if they failed to make a satisfactory adjustment they were, in a short time, afforded an opportunity to rectify it.

Jacksonville grew and prospered under the aldermanic form of government; the public service was built up and adapted to the needs of the people and the expense of the government was low. The people always had a representative to whom they could go with any grievance and it was heard by the entire council.

The aldermanic form of government cost the citizens of Jacksonville not to exceed $3,000 a year, and generally less than that. The commission form of government costs in salaries of the mayor and the four commissioners $8,800, being about three times as expensive as the aldermanic form of government. In the eight years that we have had the commission form of government, ending next spring, it will have cost the tax payers of Jacksonville $46,400 in excess of what the aldermanic form of government cost the citizens of Jacksonville for a like period.

I wish to know what the people have received in consideration for this $46,400? If we have received any benefit for this excess payment, I do not know it.

The service of the public utilities during late years was never poorer; our streets have been almost impassable; citizens have been killed and crippled by the conditions of the streets in being left torn up. Instead of the government being a protection to the people it is a jeopardy; instead of a shield it is a sword; instead of the form of government earned by our ancestors, we have an autocratic form of government.

I hope that the good citizens will go to the polls on August 13th and return to the tried path of government and not longer stay under a strange and un-American government. The commission form is an experiment and has proven a failure. The city of Jacksonville was never in such financial distress under American government. Let us return to the house of the fathers and not longer live on husks and feed hogs.

Very respectfully,

T. B. Orear.

On Sept. 5th, 1916, I had a chemical analysis made of my urine in a Chicago laboratory and found that I was in the beginning of serious kidney trouble. Had treated with other doctors with no benefits. Have taken treatment from Dr. C. W. Carson, the Chicago Specialist and for months the chemical analyses have shown no kidney trouble whatever, and my kidneys and general condition have improved wonderfully. Am as strong and can do as much work as I ever did.

Statement by Jacksonville Council Knights of Columbus

Jacksonville Council Knights of Columbus presents Courier editorial, "Another Vatican Effort," published August 2nd 1913.

The editorial announced that a new peace proposal had been issued by the Vatican, "and doubtless with a view to saving the face of Austria and Germany, at that." It attacked the neutrality and fairness of the Vatican and accused the Catholic church of pro-Germanism. No peace proposal was out, none has come out since.

The Courier has not retracted its false statements. It has offered no apology for the insults offered not only the Catholic people but also to the intelligence of Protestant people who want to know the truth, who want to have the facts placed before them, that they may judge rightly of the individuals and the institutions found in our land.

"Isn't it the truth that as a rule it is the truth that hurts?" On that little peg we shall hang the following defense of Catholic loyalty.

If any unfairness should come from the Vatican what think you would these men say—loyal Catholics, every one:

Catholic Honor Roll

General Ferdinand Foch, the Commander-in-Chief of the Allied Armies, [Foch has a brother who is a priest.]

Field Marshal Haig—Commander of the British forces in France; also has a brother a Catholic priest.

Admiral Lord Walter Kerr—of the English fleet.

Admiral Benson—The head of the American navy.

Rear Admiral Robert S. Griffin—The Chief of the Navy Bureau of Steam Engineering.

Edward R. Stettinius—Recently appointed Surveyor-General of all Army Purchases, and now Assistant to Secretary of War Baker.

Edward N. Hurley—Chairman of United States Ship Construction.

Jno. D. Ryan—Chairman of Air Craft Production.
Charles M. Schwab—The new Director General of Ship Building.

General O'Bryan—Of New York, whose praises have been sounded through the country for his moral influence on the boys.

John Patrick Holland—The inventor of the submarine.

Captain William T. Fitzsimmons—The first American victim of the present war.

Sergeant John Howard Pittman—The first American boy to fire at the Germans on the French front.

Thomas F. Enright—The first American boy killed in action in France.

Patrick McGinnis—Of Youngstown, Ohio, received the first Navy Medal of Honor since the United States entered the war.

Chaplain Oslas Boucher—Was in France less than two months, when he was distinguished for his daring bravery in ministering to the wounded.

Sergeants Norton and Walsh—Two of the first three Americans who were awarded crosses for distinguished military service by General Pershing, are Catholics (the third man was Lieutenant Greene).

Gunner William Clancy—A Texas youth, the first man to carry the Stars and Stripes on the battle fields of Europe, for which he received a gold medal.

Hon. Frank P. Walsh—Who has been selected by labor to represent it in framing a national labor policy.

Over 40 per cent of the United States Navy, and over 30 per cent of the United States Army is Catholic.

And most of the above military men of our country and of our allies are products of the Catholic school; they learned that service in behalf of country is a duty of religion as well as of patriotism.

Minnesota Wheat Lands

Kittson County, where the late James J. Hill had a 26,000 acre wheat and stock farm offers unusual opportunities.

The Payne Investment Co. now offers an attractive list of farms in that county, values ranging from $40 to $75 an acre, according to location and improvements.

Read what John W. Thomas, a Morgan county man who located in Kittson county this year, says:

"The grain in this locality is looking fine. We have had an abundance of moisture and from present prospects I expect to harvest enough this year to equal the value of the quarter section of land I purchased. The climate has been ideal thus far and all the members of my family are in the best of health. If you are thinking of buying land I don't know any locality where it will pay for itself as quickly or advance as rapidly as here. The country is settling up very rapidly. Wheat, oats, alfalfa and barley are the principal crops. The soil is rich, black and deep."

Will be pleased to furnish literature and information about Kittson county farms, most of which are located near Humbolt.

The Whole War Policy of the Pope is Based Solely On Justice and Charity

(James Cardinal Gibbons)

"More, perhaps, than any other single individual, our Holy Father Pope Benedict XV, has suffered in this tragedy. Others have but their own individual sorrows. He bears the sorrows of all. Wherever he turns his eyes from the Vatican he sees his children locked in deadly strife. He counts them by the thousands among our own countrymen who have generously answered their country's call, and among the Allies too, just as he does among the enemies whom they are facing on the field of battle. And tho the triumph of justice always consoles him, yet he cannot but mourn over the slaughter of his spiritual children.

"It is not astonishing then that the Holy Father, lifted above the noise and the strife of world-politics has constantly and consistently worked for a just and enduring peace. Reasonable men expect that from him. He is a priest. To millions of Catholics throughout the world he is the Supreme Pontiff, commissioned by Christ to rule and guide His flock. Like his Master he rules not by the sword, but by love. He is the universal Pastor. As such he cannot become a participant in the strife. And tho he should condemn and has actually condemned all violations of the laws of war, yet as far as is consistent with morality and religion, he must hold the balance of an equal judgment between the contending parties. Those who wish that he had done more, misunderstand the nature of his office. He is not an ordinary neutral. His position has peculiar features that make it altogether unique. He is a co-sufferer with all the nations in the conflict. Except in rare cases where it was his duty to act, he was bound to look upon all alike, and by counsel and warning endeavor to bring the combatants to a mutual understanding.

"It must not be thought that his silence, when he thought it necessary, came from cowardice, worldly prudence or political and selfish motives. From the first letter which the Holy Father addressed to the world on September 8, two days after he had been crowned, in which he expressed his horror at the awful catastrophe into which the war had plunged the nations, down to the eloquent protest of a few weeks since, in which he solemnly condemned the senseless and cruel air-raids on the beautiful city of Padua, as contrary to the law of nations, he has not been afraid to speak out in favor of peace and against cruelty. Two months after his election, in his Encyclical "Ad Beatissimi," he made an earnest appeal to the nations to put an end to the war. He spent the following weeks of the year in a generous and truly Christian endeavor, unfortunately not crowned with success, to obtain a cessation of hostilities during those hallowed days when the world celebrated the coming of the Prince of Peace.

"Scarcely a month of his Pontificate passed without some word of warning from him, some appeal for the prisoner, the war sufferer, some protest against the horrors and injustices of the fratricidal struggle. On January 22, 1915, he again earnestly pleaded for the cessation of armed strife. He appointed February 7 for Europe and March 21 for the rest of the world as a day of public prayer for peace by the millions of his children throughout the world. In the month of May of that same year he asked his subjects, wherever found, to turn to the Immaculate Heart of the Mother of God and to pray to her that order, peace and love might soon be restored to a suffering world. Towards the end of that year in the Consistorial Allocation of December 6, he made one of his memorable statements, one that may be considered as the seed of every legitimate movement for peace undertaken since, when he declared that a way to a just and durable peace consisted in a clear and straightforward formulation by the respective parties of their aims and purposes, to be followed by a conference in which, all injustice being laid aside, mutual concessions and compensations should be made in the spirit of equity. In 1916 he urged the practice of the spirit of penance in the families of the belligerents and appointed a general Communion day for the children, for the return of peace. A few months later he protested against the malicious charges made against his impartiality and solemnly affirmed that no selfish interest guided his acts, but that he was working for the cause of suffering and bleeding humanity. The following year witnessed again his untiring efforts in the cause of order and civilization. His work culminated in his peace note of August 1, to the heads of the many nations at war, a document which, in spite of its critics, is a monument to the universal affection, the prudent diplomacy and the strict impartiality of the Vicar of Christ. That document has been misunderstood by some, by others wilfully misinterpreted. It was not meant to be a final award. It purported to be but an effort to bring the nations together in the persons of their representatives and delegates for the purpose of beginning a discussion of peace. It was not a judicial decision. It was a diplomatic effort. It contained the broad outlines of a plan of settlement. Unless I am much mistaken, when the peace congress assembles the final verdict of the nations will be based on the general principles pointed out by the Holy Father.

"It has been said again and again that Benedict XV has forgotten Belgium, that he does not speak up for her in her hour of betrayal by the superior forces of her invaders. When Benedict XV came to the throne, Belgium had already been invaded by the German armies and a considerable part of her territory overrun. The flagrant injustice had already been committed. When the invasion took place the saintly Pius was already in the shadow of death. On coming to the throne the new Pope did not wait long to let the world know of his sentiments with regard to the violation of Belgium territory. He spoke at first with prudent circumspection, for not all the facts were in his possession. But he soon learned the truth and acted conformably to it. According to the letter written by the Papal Secretary of State, Cardinal Gasparri, to M. Van der Meulen, Belgian Minister to the Vatican, "the violation of the neutrality of Belgium, carried out by Germany, on the admission of her own Chamber, contrary to international law, was one of those injustices which the Holy Father in his Consistorial Allocation of January 22 strongly reprobated." And the Hamburger Fremdenblatt (January 29, 1917), in allusion to this, complains that "the one belligerent power against which the Vatican has spoken is Germany." Writing to M. Laudet, editor of the Revue Hebdomadaire in July, 1915, the Pope also protested against "the martyrdom of the poor Belgian priests, and so many other horrors on which light has been cast." He protested also against the Belgian deportations and had hundreds of victims of these cruel measures returned to their homes. Such has been the solicitude for the martyred nation that it has called for the most profuse thanks from the two great heroes of the war, King Albert and Cardinal Mercier. His Holiness also protested to Russia against the violence to persons and to conscience displayed during the early occupation of East Prussia and Galicia, and against the harsh treatment of Mgr. Szeptycki, the venerable Archbishop of Lemberg. He has labored for the prisoners of war, for the crippled and the blind on the war's countless battlefields. Not once has he forgotten that he is the Father of the Faithful. His conduct towards the Italian Government has been marked by a spirit of conciliation, justice and absolute impartiality that high government officials have praised him and those under his jurisdiction. The silly and cowardly slanders recently brought against his patriotism by radicals are so gross as not to deserve a refutation."

President Wilson's Statement

Washington, D. C., Times, September 15, 1917:

The Pope's attitude naturally and inevitably has been that of peace-maker from the war's beginning, and the President himself, in his reply to the Pope, paid to his holiness a just tribute that is echoed thruout the world. The President wrote: "Every heart that has not been blinded and hardened by this terrible war must be touched by this moving appeal of His Holiness, the Pope, must feel the dignity and force of the humane and generous motives which prompted it and must fervently wish that we might take the path of peace he so persuasively points out."

Bishop Ryan Says Flag Next Only to Cross

Alton, Illinois, June 13, 1918

Rev. Dear Father:

I avail myself of the occasion of the circular to commend most cordially to priest and people the great work of the Knights of Columbus in army and navy. It is a magnificent work, in which Catholics have every reason to take pride and give most active assistance. The Red Cross also is doing excellent work and deserving of hearty aid. In general, every parish should show itself actively responsive to the calls of the nation thru the administration. Catholics are always loyal to country, heart and soul, and this should be made manifest on all proper occasions. Especially in this stress of times when our country and our cause are of the highest and deepest import to mankind and the world—next to the standard of the cross is really and truly the standard of our country, the Star Spangled Banner. It will conquer, of course, but it must conquer, lest merely freedom, but civilization itself should go down before the most callously ruthless militarism of history. As to the diffusion of Liberty Bonds every one helping is along in helping himself. There is no better security on the face of the earth, and priest and lay committee can be safely vigorous in the campaign of education. As said, it only becomes Catholics to be enthusiastically patriotic, for they have been in the forefront of patriotism from the beginning of the country. We are and have been praying ardently with the Holy Father for peace, but it is the right peace, the lasting peace of justice.

Yours truly in Christ,
James Ryan, Bishop of Alton.

MAVERICKS The past few days Have been so hot, We didn't care Whether we worked or not.

Chicago is to have a municipal laundry. There is considerable plant in Chicago that needs washing. There is no use kicking about the two pounds of sugar per month allowance. We remember the time when you could get 24 pounds for a dollar and any quantity, from a pound to a car load. The only trouble was that we didn't have any money to buy with.

If any members of that Waterloo, Iowa, exemption board had even been newspaper reporters they would never have sent out work or fight orders to those Waterloo newspapermen.

A story is going the rounds that Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo started out to be a druggist, but jammed a fauset in a soda fountain and got fired. Perhaps the experience gained in jamming that fauset is the reason of Mr. McAdoo's success in jamming the railroad business of the country since he took over the railroad lines.

Tommy Gibbons' boxing instructor at Camp Meade wants to box Jack Dempsey. We are of the opinion that the officer in charge of Camp Meade should have Gibbons examined by Doc Zellar or some other alienist.

In 1911 those favoring the adoption of the commission form of government said it was a panacea for all municipal ills. Some change of opinion since then. But don't forget to vote, anyway. G. W. D.

BENNETT FUNERAL TO BE HELD MONDAY

Bluffs, Aug. 10.—The funeral of M. E. Bennett who died Friday will be held at his home at 10 o'clock Monday, the Rev. I. G. Vandewort of Clayton officiating. After which the remains will be taken to Clayton for burial. Mr. Bennett was born in Clark County Mo. July 12, 1851. He was the last of a family of eleven children and had spent the greater part of his life in Clayton where he met and married Miss Ida White of that city on July 22, 1886. One child, now Mrs. Frank Martin, came to live near their home and during his illness he thought no one could take care of him quite so well as she. All that medical skill could do was done but he gradually failed until death came. He was a member of the Christian church of Clayton and belonged to the following orders: A. F. & A. M., M. O. E. S., B. of L. E. and Knights of Pythias. He was a man of high ideals and leaves besides the faithful wife and one child.

Letters of Interest from Jacksonville Boys in the Country's Service.

From Sergeant Franks.

The following letter was received by A. F. Franks a few days ago from his son, Sergeant Owen E. Franks, now in army service overseas. Sergeant Franks was sent to Camp Dix, N. J., for preliminary training and within a short time was sent "over there."

Dear Dad:

I suppose you were beginning to think your son had gone back on you, but since I left the States I sure have been going some.

The trip across the pond was all right for a few days, but it soon got tiresome, seeing nothing but water. I can't understand why in hell they put so much water in one place.

Some of the boys took a great interest in the fish and wanted to be feeding them all the time, but I could not see any fun in it.

We were sure glad when, after days and weeks, we saw land, and it sure looked good to me.

We stayed in a "rest camp" in England a few days and are now "Somewhere in France."

The people of England gave us a very good reception, but they seem to be far back of the U. S. in style and manner of living.

France is about the same in their style and manner of living, but they sure have a warm spot in their hearts for the Yanks and like to show it.

We are about eight kilometers from a small town here and once in a while we get passes to go there, but once a fellow has seen it you don't care to go back, as there are no amusements there.

We are only allowed to write two letters a week, so you can see a fellow can't write often to one person and get around to all his friends and relatives.

But you do not have to wait for me to answer, but drop me a line and let me know how every thing is at the factory and at home. You had better make a list of our good customers and let me be able to send them a card. The ones on my route, I mean.

I sure have been working hard and all hours, but a fellow must if he wants to get by in the army or any place. I was first made corporal and then, last week, I was made a sergeant.

A fellow has to be on his toes and learn quickly, so he can teach the privates how things should be done and see that they do it. I hope I will be able to hold my own of the work up. We are just getting into the real work and must work hard, as they don't wait for you to get ready here.

I enjoy the work fine, as it is a change from what I have been doing, and I sure feel fine, and you know how I could eat at home now. Anything they set before me soon "is no more."

We have a fine set of officers over us and you don't know what that means in the army, unless you are there.

The Y. M. C. A. sure is a God's blessing to us, as that is the only place we can go to spend our little spare time and hear a little music.

The only real pleasure is when a fellow receives a letter from home, and you should see us when the mail comes in, so please tell the folks to write me often and you can read this to them, so they will know how I am.

I cannot tell you where I am or what we are doing, as it is against the rules, as the letter might go astray and get into the hands of some of the many spys Germany has out.

So you see it is hard for a fellow to write an interesting letter without breaking the rules, but I will have some bull to spread when I get back. Heavy on the when.

And it won't be until we give the Hun a hell of a licking.

Give all the boys at the factory my best, also the girls in the office, and also give my best to Mayor and Mrs. Mollman and the boys at the Century, Mecca and our store in Decatur.

Well, I must close and study my manual.

Your son,
Sergeant Owen E. Franks,
Co. D, 303 Ammn. Train, American E. F. Via New York.

Corporal in Thick of the Fight.

The following extracts are from Corporal Earl P. Sooy to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Sooy, of Murrayville. In his letter the young man indicates that his company, the Second Engineers, A. E. F., have had an active part in the fighting of recent weeks and have made a name for themselves.

The many Morgan county friends of young Sooy will read with interest the following paragraphs from his letter:

"No Boche has my number as yet, and I seem to be living my usual charmed life. So far I have received nothing but a flesh wound on the elbow at the hands of a sniper, but it didn't stop me at all. I had too many close ones before to let such a trifle worry me, and that is the only scratch I have received. I have seen more than one brave fellow staring at the sky, and not all of them were allies, either."

"You know the branch of service Apple, Frisbie and Wilson enlisted in. My battalion is in the same brigade as that branch and you only have to glance at the papers to know that I have been in some tall fighting. I have been side by side with those fellows when it was at its hottest and we have made a name for ourselves. And Fritz will not forget us so soon, either."

"Believe me, we certainly showed those Fritzies a good time. It didn't make any difference to our unit whether they were great or small, few or many, we were always there. Yes, we were afraid, every human is afraid, but that doesn't mean that we were 'yellow.' All brave men are afraid. What it takes to knock h— out of the Hun we have, and all other Americans have, if they are given the same chance."

The following letter from Lieut. Paul Strawn was received yesterday by his mother, Mrs. James Strawn, of South East street:

Monday Noon.

Dear Mother:

Well, you haven't heard from me; but it's so hot here I'm merely existing and when I have a few moments of leisure I run for the fan or ice water. Writing letters has been almost a thing of the past for me, as we work of mornings from 5:30 till noon; then it's so hot we are not in the mood to write.

Well, you might be interested to know our routine here. We get on the flying field and into our ships and ready to go in the air at 6 a. m.

We have been flying for four days now and we have one boy dead and three wounded in my class of twenty-five boys. That's quite a record, isn't it?

The seventy-five boys here from Dayton are divided into three classes of twenty-five each. I am in the second class or squadron. We flew with an instructor the first day or two, then we were turned loose and now we are flying across country trips. We shoot traps, machine gun practice and camera gun shooting at planes in the air. Practice wireless, navigation problems and photography during our spare time.

On Friday we took a cross-country trip to Kimball and Terrell, Texas. One of the boys' planes caught fire from intensive heat, I suppose, and at 500 feet it blew to pieces and the boy was hurled to the ground and instantly killed. We didn't know of it till two or three hours later. He was identified by a ring on his finger and the engine number. We could not tell by looking at him. Saturday we finished the trip and I went Saturday. I landed in Terrell, and the fellow coming behind me landed and his plane was going so fast it ran into a tree.

We laughed at him, but the next fellow came in and was chased down to the ground and within thirty feet of the telephone wires when he zoomed it over them, clearing them by three inches; then he almost tore up his plane landing. Then I had the laugh on another one of them. I was first in, so I had to be first up and we got in and taxied out to head into the wind. There was quite a breeze up and the trees were in front of me, so I turned the ship around with a quick jerk of the rudder, and the wind caused my ship to spin around and caused a sudden some lumpy ground loomed up, and crash went one wheel and a wing skid. One wing was cracked a little, but not enough to hurt. Then the boys gave me the laugh, and I didn't feel bad, for I was the only one who hadn't broke something, and I had no exciting tale to tell of my flying experience. This happened about 9:30 a. m., and we sat in the lonely pasture with the hot sun beating down on us and a herd of dairy cows snooking about till 4:30 p. m., when we saw a plane coming with our rescue; but we did go to town at noon and eat dinner. The Red Cross in Terrell gave a dinner and the money raised was put into a fund to feed the aviators, who were broken down Terrell men. So we were the first to partake of this fund. We had to go in one at a time, for one had to be with the plane all the time. We were just about to take a farmer's Ford wheels and put them on the plane when our man showed up; so the Ford is a handy car, after all.

The man who came out with repairs went ahead. He was quite a stunt flyer, for every 200 yards he would loop. I got an altitude of five to six thousand feet and enjoyed the cool air. My machine wanted some thrills, so just as soon as we got over the big lake I put the ship into a tall spin and let out a big yell. I let it spin till we were 3,000 feet; then took it out. I could see the machine had all the thrills it wanted, so I headed for home and engine whirled down to 200 feet, then drove almost straight down, as there was a stiff wind and landed.

He said he would have enjoyed the spin more if I hadn't have been over that lake.

But what worried me was the boys of my class all were given planes and flew over the city and dropped flowers on the train that carried our classmates off, then they flew over the train for twenty miles or more, while I was sitting in the cow pasture. We are going on a hundred mile trip tomorrow. Saturday I am going to fly to Ft. Worth and Claire and Helen are going on the train to see an exhibition in flying.

Regards to all at home. Tell the people whom I owe letters I will drop them a line some time soon.

Letter From Fred Bray.

Dr. F. S. Hayden is in receipt of an interesting letter from Fred W. Bray, who is with the hospital train No. 55, American Expeditionary Forces. The writer tells of a recent trip to Paris, where he witnessed the elaborate ceremonies in observance of the great French holiday. While in Paris Mr. Bray met Edgar Decker, well known here, and who is just recovering from recent wounds. The letter follows:

France, 7-15, 1918.

Dear Doctor Hayden:

I thought you would be interested to know that I got a pass to Paris yesterday and spent a busy day celebrating the "Glorious Fourteenth."

There was a parade in the morning, but I only saw a small part of it, as I reached the city about an hour after the parade had started, and there were so many spectators, that about all I saw were the bayonets, the flags, and the mounted officers. After the parade was over, I parted company from our "crowd," for they were all going to mass at the Madeleine, while I went up to the American church on Rue de Berri, and heard Dr. Paul Van Dyke of Princeton University. I was in the Madeleine later in the day, getting there just at the close of a high-mass, and heard the organist play "The Star Spangled Banner" full organ, as a postlude.

In the early afternoon, there was some sort of ceremony at the Strasburg Monument in the Place de la Concorde. As usual, several thousand people beat me there, and I didn't see much, and I heard and understood considerably less. Many of the veterans of 1870 took part in the ceremony, and they added another wreath to the mountain of flowers which already almost hide the monument. I never pass this monument but what I see that "Qui Vive! France Quand Meme!" sign which Miss Cole used to tell us about.

At 4 p. m. I went to a Symphony Orchestra concert at the conservatory. This orchestra had been recruited from two or three French orchestras, and was conducted by Dr. Walter Damrosch of New York. He is here in the Y. M. C. A. uniform bringing symphony music especially to the American soldiers. This particular concert was a Red Cross benefit. The audience was about half French and American, and they about raised the roof for both the "Marseillaise" and "The Star-Spangled Banner." I was late in getting a ticket and had to sit in a box with three French officers and an American lieutenant. The latter and I began to trade information about our "home-towns," and I discovered that he was from Harvard Medical, and knew Garm Norbury quite well, and knew J. Howard Brown, less intimately.

After the concert, I was just going into the "Soldiers' Club" in Rue Royale for dinner, and I met Edgar Decker. Can you imagine what a grand and glorious feeling that was to give a fellow? Edgar is getting along fine, and is practically recovered from his wounds, and is leaving this morning to recuperate a while longer at a hospital in Southern France. I don't know just how much you people at home are in touch with Edgar's branch of the service have been doing over here, but I want to tell you that they have been doing some of the most heroic work of the war so far. A letter from Sooy a few days ago told me the same thing, and a long talk last night with Decker confirmed several reports which I've heard of their superb work. To talk with any one like Edgar who is just getting over serious wounds, makes the rest of us feel rather small and decidedly on the outside of things.

It rained torrents at times yesterday, and we took refuge at the Cafe de la Paix for about an hour, and then walked over to the Place de la Concorde, and walked out to the Champs-Elysees thru the Arch of Triumph and out the Avenue de la Grande Armee to the entrance to the Bois du Boulogne. There we had to say "so-long" for Edgar was due back at the hospital and I had to catch a train for "home"—if one can call a railroad coach sitting in a switch yard, such. I suppose we didn't get to say half the things to each other we wanted to, but didn't waste a minute, and it was a sure-enough "jour de de'te" for both of us. I must get to work. Very best wishes to you and Mrs. Hayden.

Sincerely,
FRED.
A. P. O. 702.

Merle Pyatt Writes from Camp Johnston.

Mrs. D. R. Wooster of 802 South East street, has received the following letter from her grandson, Merle Pyatt, now in training at Camp Joseph E. Johnston, Jacksonville, Fla.:

Camp Johnston,
August 6, 1918.

Dear Grandma:

Your welcome letter received and was glad to know you were well. I am well and able to eat three good meals every day. The meals here are very good. We have 450 men to feed every meal and that of course takes a great deal of food. Yesterday (Sunday) we rested and slept nearly all day. It's rather warm during the day but cool at night.

I am going to lectures 4 hours a day, drill 2 hours and have the rest of the time to myself. Yes the news is very favorable in France and hope you will be able to cook a good meal when I get home. I am sorry to hear Ralph Cowgur is sick.

Sunday we had a good dinner: roast beef, mashed potatoes, string beans, an ear of corn, raisin pudding, cake and ice cream, so you can see that I do not starve by any means.

We have six men in a tent here. Some from New York and every state in the union. I wish you would ask Andrew Cobb's mother for his address so I can write him. Also call up the Journal office and give them my address so I can get the Journal.

Love to all,
From Merle Pyatt,

GETTING THE LAND LEASES

The joint war committee has made some substantial advances in the securing of land on the proposed new reservoir. With so large a number of property owners interested, it is naturally taking a good deal of time to have all the papers formally signed by all the interested parties. Thus for the committee has signed options on lands belonging to D. W. Howe, J. A. Clark, Mrs. Martia Routt, Mrs. Mary E. Wood, Arthur L. Black, the Kitcher estate and the state of Illinois lands. This means that there are but four property owners who have not signed the leases or options.

ATTENDED BY M. C. A. WAR CONFERENCE.

Mayor H. J. Rodgers and J. S. Findley have returned from Chicago, where they went to attend a state conference of Y. M. C. A. campaign workers. There were about seventy-five persons present and the conference was held at the Sherman hotel. The conference of Y. W. C. A. workers was held at the same time. Organization affairs somewhat preliminary to next fall's Y. M. C. A. army fund drive were discussed.

At another meeting to be held on September 24th there will be a much larger attendance, with district and county chairmen and workers in attendance. There will probably be several speakers at that time, men who have been at the front engaged in Y. M. C. A. work. It is expected that 500 or 600 delegates will attend that conference.

EXEMPTION BOARD NEWS

New Rules for Entrained Men.

The local board has received certain amendments to selective service regulations with particular reference to the induction, mobilization and entrainment of selected men. Under the new rules the local board is required to furnish each selected man with an arm band or brassard bearing the letters "U. S. N. A." This arm band or brassard shall be stitched only to the left sleeve of the selected man ten inches above the elbow. This constitutes the uniform of the national army from the time of induction into military service until the man arrives at the mobilization camp.

The board shall have attached to the right sleeve of each leader and assistant leader an arm band on which shall appear the letters "F. P." Leader and assistant leaders shall have special military police authority and are required to maintain good order in their respective contingents enroute.

These men shall quell any disorders and confiscate and destroy all intoxicating liquors, including beer, ale or wine, and in general take all steps necessary for the maintenance of proper discipline in their respective contingents and squads.

The leader and assistant leaders are also required to keep a record of any case of disorderly conduct among the men while enroute and to submit a report of each individual case to the commanding officer of the mobilization camp. As in the past, an assistant leader will be appointed, one for each eight men and warrants will be furnished to the assistant leaders and special police.

When the men entrain special seats will be assigned to the different men and they will be required to occupy the seats as they would when traveling as civilians. The effect of the order is to place large responsibility upon the leader and assistant leaders in charge of entraining men.

Several rulings have been made by the district board with reference to Morgan county men.

Henry Wheeler, who was in Class 1, has been placed in Class 2-C by the district board on industrial claim.

Arthur Kitchen, who was in Class 2, was placed in class 1.

Wayne Williams, who had been in Class 1, was given classification of 2-D.

To the Citizens of Jacksonville: Jacksonville Should Not Go Back

This is no time for a change in the form of city government. If any change is made it should be to the manager form rather than backward to the aldermanic form.

Your joint water committee has labored earnestly and harmoniously for the past year to arrange for and secure a good, pure water supply for the city. We have at your request made investigation. You have authorized the bond issue to construct the dam, spillway and filter. We have secured options on all the land necessary for the lake except from four parties. While we are doing this for you, we feel that conditions should not be changed or disturbed now. It will be a serious calamity for Jacksonville to take a backward step at this time.

So we herewith earnestly ask and request you in the interests of the city's welfare, that you each one, men and women, go to the polls Tuesday, August 13, 1918, and see that your neighbors and fellow-voters go also and vote "NO".
